Questions and Answers with Fr. John

Dear Father, I was wondering...Does the Catholic Church believe in reincarnation?

Dear friend, Thank you for your excellent question. Reincarnation is the belief that when we die our soul is reborn in a new body on earth. Catholics believe that when we die our soul goes to God to be judged, and then the soul enjoys everlasting life, or must be purified in Purgatory, or it is in Hell eternally. Our body is buried, and awaits the end of the world, when Jesus will come again to resurrect our bodies, and they will then join our souls.

Dynamic Catholic Presentation on Wednesday, January 2nd at 7pm there will be a video presentation and discussion titled "Made of Mission" at St. Patrick's Parish in Newport, NH. What a beautiful way to start the New Year by exploring the genius of Catholicism. You have been designed by God with a purpose. Ignore how He has designed you and you will be inviting every type of misery into your life. Embrace how God has designed you and you will experience unimaginable joy, even when things don't go your way. Have you ever heard of the Corporal and the Spiritual Works of Mercy? As a Christian, we bring the love and the mercy of Jesus Christ to others by performing these works. Come enjoy the wisdom of Matthew Kelly and join the discussion of how we are "made for mission".
